Electricity vs. Gas.

The constant flicker of gas light means ruination to the eyesight. The preventative is the steady incandescent electric light. Gas is being sidetracked in hundreds of instances and the electric light is at the switch. We furnish the current—will give you details of cost, etc., any time.

THEIR REPORT IS READY

Commissioners Will Send It to the President Tomorrow.

DR. WOODWARD'S WISHES

Wants a Coroner Versed in the Knowledge of the Law With a Medical Assistant—Representative Mercer's Conference With Major Powell Work on New Engine House.

The Commissioners will send in their report to the President in due time tomorrow. Col. Ross and Major Powell came to the District Building at the usual hour and within half an hour each was locked in his own room reading the reports of the subordinates under his immediate care and looking over over papers, revising, correcting and making all ready for the President's attention.

Col. Truesdell did not come down in the morning, but was expected later at home with his share of the material that goes to make up the report. About 3 o'clock Col. Truesdell came in and the three met to look over the work together. At 5 o'clock they called in their clerks and set them to work making typewritten copies of the Commissioner's share of the document. The Commissioners in the meanwhile continued their discussion of important features. The finishing touches will be given tomorrow morning.

CORONER VERSED IN LAW.
Dr. Woodward was with Col. Ross during a part of the morning and undoubtedly they discussed features relating to the health department. The report will probably recommend the passage of the bill introduced in the Fifty-third Congress, providing for the appointment by the court of appeals of a coroner versed in law and especially in medical jurisprudence. His business will be to conduct a legal investigation instead of the unsatisfactory inquest now held under the antiquated law published by The Times at the time of the killing of Henry Green last summer. The measure also calls for a medical examiner who shall act with the coroner to determine the cause of death.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE.
The new engine house on D street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, cannot be completed in contract time. It was to be done by December 1, and very soon after it was expected that it would be in use. Unavoidable delays have occurred, however, and it will not be open much before January 20. The facts were presented to the Commissioners a few days ago, and after due consideration they decided that an extension of time was proper. Contrary to popular expectation, they informed yesterday that he could have till January 20 to finish the building.

DIVIDING THE ESTATE.
Suit Brought for Sale and Partition of Proceeds.
Mrs. Sarah C. Fitzgerald and her husband, Edward A. Fitzgerald, have filed a bill in equity against Johanna Gorman, Michael B. Gorman, Thomas T. Keane and Margaret A. Simon to enforce a sale by trustee of certain real estate mentioned in the bill and for partition of the proceeds.

The first named complaint derived by will from Margaret Fitzgerald title to an undivided one-half interest in a lot B, square 534, together with the improvements thereon, the premises being designated as No. 206 Four-and-a-half street southwest. Johanna Gorman derived title to the other half interest in the property by will from Catherine Fitzgerald, and Margaret Simon has a dower interest in the premises as the widow of John Simon. Keane is the executor of the estate.
